About Globally Connected

THE EVENT:

Globally Connected: A Soiree in Honor of International Service, is a global themed, festive and formal fundraiser for the programs and initiatives of the Young Professionals for International Cooperation of Southern NY (SNY YPIC). SNY YPIC serves as the young professional arm of the nation's largest grassroots foreign policy organization – United Nations Association of USA.

To be held in Manhattan at The Xchange on Friday, December 3, Globally Connected will provide an opportunity for guests to indulge in an evening of international festivities while highlighting the importance of being globally engaged. The evening's distinguished guests of honor – well-known personalities will speak to the audience about the need to be engaged in international service.

Funds raised from Globally Connected will support international affairs-oriented educational and advocacy programs that will help New York City's many young professionals further their knowledge of pressing international issues, dedicate themselves to making a change in the world, and take a step towards becoming future global-oriented leaders. For more information about Globally Connected, please visit <http://www.YPICgloballyconnected.org>

THE ACTIVITIES

Globally Connected will feature:

Ethnic cuisines from around the world

Musical and dance performances from African, Asian, and Latin American performers

Silent auction

A gift bag for all attendees, featuring green and sustainable products

Speeches from distinguished guests of honor from international service fields

THE PARTICIPANTS

The 350 guests of the event will include young professionals from the New York City area; diplomats; invited press; and professionals from the non-profit and NGO world.

Funds raised from Globally Connected will support international affairs-oriented educational and advocacy programs that will help New York City's many young professionals further their knowledge of pressing international issues, dedicate themselves to making a change in the world, and to take a step towards becoming future global-oriented leaders.

About Young Professionals for International Cooperation

The Young Professionals for International Cooperation of Southern NY (SNY YPIC) – a 501(c)(3) organization - was established in 2004 as a 100 percent volunteer-based group committed to serving young professionals in the New York City metropolitan area. Through discussions, partnerships, and action-oriented initiatives, SNY YPIC offers its members a platform for education, advocacy, professional development in international affairs, and the opportunity to volunteer in international service. The group consists of diverse young professionals from the fields of business, law, public service, healthcare and the media.

Since its inception in 2004, SNY YPIC has signed up over 500 members from the NYC metropolitan area and has an outreach to 3000+ followers. For more information, visit www.unasouthernny.org/ypic

SNY YPIC members have been inspired to form their own non-profit organizations; volunteer in relief missions internationally and locally; pursue higher education in International Relations, and sit on boards for other non-profits.
